HOWDY FOLKS

I thought you might like to know what the owner of this garden looks like. Don't think that I go dressed up like this all the time. I don't. I look like this only when my wife "yanks" me out to a bridge party. I really spend the most of my spare time in the Iris garden. Hybridizing and growing good Iris is my hobby. My vocation is teaching. I have been here at the State Teachers College teaching biology for more than twenty years. Genetics is my hobby subject too. Iris breeding gives me a chance to study my hobby subject first hand.

I have hesitated somewhat to issue this list. Already there are too many Iris of mediocre quality on the market. I have several of them in my garden. So have you. But I feel that the few lovely creations (out of the thousands I have grown) that I offer are different from anything on the market and are very much worth while. I have no apology to make for them. I believe you will like them very much.

I am issuing this (my first list) to place my own introductions into the hands of Iris lovers; to give others a chance to purchase the newer and better Iris at a nominal price, and last to offer my surplus rhizomes of the cheaper sorts to people who want them. This gives me a chance to make my hobby self supporting. I can help you and you can help me. When quality and size of rhizomes are considered my prices are very reasonable. My garden is not a commercial garden.

My descriptions are true, not filled with meaningless phrases.

I hope you will try some and be convinced of their real value.

LEWIS CLEVINGER,

A. I. S. Accredited Judge.

1946 INTRODUCTIONS

For the first time I am offering my creations to the Iris public. I believe they will take care of themselves, and Iris lovers will find them very much worth while. Descriptions are given as clearly as possible. Only one rhizome to a customer.

“HOWDY”

This word is a pleasant Missouri greeting, but the Iris was named after my wife. Her nickname is Howdy.

This Iris was introduced by the Wild Rose Iris Garden, St. Joseph, Mo., in 1942 but owing to the war the Iris had little chance of being disseminated. It was introduced at $10.00 per rhizome.

It is a huge, much ruffled, icy white with orange beard. The buds are sky blue but open up a beautiful crispy icy white. Branching is good. Height 36". Standards are closed, falls slightly flaring. Weather resistance is excellent, as it stands up under Missouri weather. This is a real test. Hardiness unquestionable. Splendid grower. I am very proud of this lovely white Iris.

A stalk of “Howdy” with three huge ruffled flowers in a container makes a lovely display. I have several of the top-notch white Iris but “Howdy” ranks right up near the front. I know you will love it. Price $5.00 per rhizome. Med. Early.

KIRKMO

This Iris is a beautiful red self. Not a dark red but more of a rose red. It is bright and has great carrying power in the garden. It is large and ruffled. The beard is yellow. Standards are closed and falls slightly flaring. Wind and rain have little effect on it. It is able to stand up under the most rigorous winters. Stems strong, branching good.

If you like this rosy tone of red, I believe you will love this big, ruffled Iris. It is different from any red I have seen. Price $10.00 per rhizome. Height 38". Med. Early.

THE CHIEFTAIN

This Iris is one of those flowers that appear as though starched.

It has a lovely appearance in the garden, having a regal carriage. The color is copper-red with a lot of copper. There is a striking blue feather marking just below the haft which is very attractive and adds greatly to the beauty of the flower. The beard is orange, standards closed and falls slightly flaring. It is of average size but it is a very striking addition to the red-copper class. Substance excellent. Good grower and a fine parent plant. Even though it is 40 inches tall it does not require staking. The branching is very good. Comes from a Dauntless × Evolution Cross. Price $10.00 per rhizome. Late.

INDIAN GIFT

A mottled blue and white plicata of gigantic size, and enough lovely grape perfume to scent the whole garden. It is worth the price asked just for this one characteristic. The petals are slightly ruffled. The standards are arched but do not quite meet so that one may look down into the yellow heart. The falls are wide and slightly ruffled.

This is a new plicata effect. There is relatively little stitching on the margin—both the standards and the falls being mottled—something new.

Very hardy and a splendid grower. Endures our Missouri weather "like a top." This is not a dainty plicata, but a large, bold flower that you notice at once in the garden. Height 40". Branching is excellent. Early. Price $10.00 per rhizome.

I am pricing these at a very low price so that every Iris fan can afford to buy.

TERMS OF SALE

All stock is guaranteed to be true to name and of the highest quality, free from disease and insect pests. That is about all we can do at this end of the line. Therefore we cannot be held responsible for your failure to make them grow. That depends on your ability as a gardener.

Cash with order, either check or P. O. money order. No C.O.D. shipments. Orders for $2.50 or more will be shipped postpaid. Orders for less please add 25 cents to help pay postage and packing. Orders from Missouri should include the 2% sales tax.

We will not substitute unless you give us permission. Our stock is very limited, therefore please mention possible substitutes.

Shipments will begin about July 15 and will continue as long as we have orders to fill. Orders are filled in rotation. First come, first served. Early orders get the pick of rhizomes.

We are always very liberal with our free extras. Mention your favorite color so we can send you something you will enjoy.

You are invited to visit our garden and see for yourself the many fine Iris we have collected. Blooming season is the last week of May and first part of June. That is the time to make your selections. Garden Clubs are especially welcome. If possible phone us ahead of time so that we can make arrangements to take you through the garden.

If you are pleased with your order and treatment, tell others. If you are not please tell us so that we may have a chance to make it right. Our customers must be pleased.

Don't judge an Iris by its price. Many of the older ones are perfect jewels for the garden, for instance Frieda Mohr, Depute Nomblot, Black Douglas, Cheerio, and others.
